FUSILIERS' REGIMENTAL OP ORDER 19/20

References:

- A. Fusiliers' Regimental Strategy 2019 dated Jul 19.
- B. Regimental Handbook 2019.

SITUATION

1. Context. It has been another challenging and demanding year. The strategic context remains remarkably complex and dynamic and the Army continues to adapt to meet the challenge – operational or fiscal. Operationally, the Army finds itself being widely utilised, be that deterring external aggression or fighting terrorism both overseas and on the streets of the UK. In terms of resources, finding ever greater efficiencies is now integral to the delivery of a modernised division by 2025.
2. The Regiment has responded to the challenges of the last few years with a pragmatic efficiency. There is will be more change ahead and the next few years look to be just as challenging. Leading through change will require us all to remain agile, adaptable, robust and able to deal with added complexity. Change must be much as an opportunity as it is a threat – leaders, at all levels, must be ready to seize the initiative and drive change through. A2020(R) was a 'win' for the Fusiliers and this coming year we need to ensure we continue to cement the gains to restructure and re-role accordingly. As a Regiment we have a clear vision and a sound plan; our strategy indicates our direction of travel and maintains our strong sense of purpose. Our Centre of Gravity remains our reputation and the Main Effort is ensuring we are fully manned. Being fully manned ensures we fight from a position of strength.
3. Purpose. This OpO directs activity for FY 2019/20.

MISSION

4. The Royal Regiment of Fusiliers is to provide Regular and Reserve forces for the Field Army:
 - a. Support the recruiting and retention of Regular and Reserve personnel.
 - b. Provide Regimental welfare and benevolence.
 - c. Preserve Regimental heritage.

In order to deliver operational capability and maintain Regimental ethos and spirit.

EXECUTION

5. Concept of Operations:

a. Intent. This year we must build on the success of the last by continuing to develop resilience throughout our Lines of Operation (LoO). Success over the next year remains as:

- (1) Making strides towards a fully manned First Battalion¹,
- (2) The Fifth Battalion re-structured and re-rolled in line with A2020(R) direction and working closely with and in support of the First Battalion.
- (3) RHQ to develop an improved welfare support system for Fusilier veterans.

b. Scheme of Manoeuvre. We will achieve greater resilience by achieving the following across our LoOs this year:

(1) Manning the Regiment. Brig Butterfill. Day to day tactical responsibility falls to the CO 5th Battalion as the supported element with the 1st Battalion in the supporting role. This year we will continue to focus on improving the manning of the 1st Battalion; and is our Main Effort. We have established a national influence and recruiting network based on the Fifth Fusiliers' footprint; having recruiters embedded in units and sub-units in each of our recruiting areas must be made to pay dividends. To aid this we will ensure oversight and management of those recruiters, whilst developing 'strength in depth' for critical posts. In support, we will seek to improve management data to inform decisions on manpower and financial resources. The aim is to incrementally improve soldier manning, throughout the year, in accordance with regimental targets. It should be noted that during 2019/20 there will be changes to the way the Army directs recruiting, in particular the command of the recruiters and the control of inflow to the Regiment.

(2) Promote and support the Regiment. Col Matthews. This year we will continue to enhance the Regiment's profile and increase the information flow around the wider Regimental family. Specifically, we will ensure relevant information is updated and included on the website - www.thefusiliers.org – whilst maintaining a strong presence on social media platforms and through the monthly newsletter. We will establish and maintain a central library of photographs so that every Fusilier can have access to relevant and timely images.

(3) Support the wider Regimental family. Brig Butterwick. This year the focus will be on continuing to strengthen the bonds with our affiliated cadets. Fifth Fusiliers will take the lead and develop an effective pairing mechanism with each of our ACF detachments across the country. We all have a part to play and I expect every serving officer and Warrant Officer to help with a local ACF – a short visit, a parade or help with kit is not too much to ask! In the OTC space we will deliver effective and high-profile support to the UOTCs, in particular, Birmingham, Northumbria, OTRNW and Oxford².

Finally, and away from cadets, we will continue to drive up Association membership; this year focussing on the younger element.

(4) Preserve our proud heritage. Colonel (Retd) Gorski. This year the focus will continue on working with the Gen Graham Study into Army Heritage which may affect our two MoD funded museums (RHQ and Bury). Concurrently, the future COAs for the Fusilier Museum Warwick will be finalised and the agreed plan implemented. All Fusilier museums will develop the outreach into their local communities in order to support the recruiting environment and to support our heritage. A holistic approach across all Fusilier museums to long term governance, reliance and funding support will continue to be developed.

(5) Maximise our talent. Brig Swift. This year is about cementing the gains of the last. We will continue to mature and institutionalise the Regimental Mentoring Scheme, ensuring every officer and SNCO knows who he can turn to for career advice – especially when away at ‘E.’ This already includes individual career maps beyond LCpl; a tool to inform the individual and the Regiment. We will actively seek to ensure Fusiliers are targeted at key posts which buy career advancement and satisfaction for the individual and influence for the Fusiliers – a better Regimental talent management system.

(6) Finance. RHQ. Following the Fusilier 50 year we will look to ensure stable finances in order to support our increase in Regimental activities. This will involve novel approaches to income generation, building on the success of some excellent events last year.

c. Main Effort. Achieving full manning in First Fusiliers.

1. General. Regimental Measures of Effect (MoE) will be used to judge the success of the Regimental Campaign Plan (Reference A); ultimately, they will be the criteria by which we shall be judged as a Regiment. Targets will be set iaw two guiding principles: to be demonstrably better than those we will be judged against (in order to survive); and to improve our outputs (in order to thrive).

REGIMENTAL KEY MESSAGES

1. The Colonel of the Regiment's Vision is:

A strong Regiment, fully manned and stood ready to meet the challenges of the future. Proud to wear the Hackle, an enduring symbol of professionalism, family and fighting spirit. Forever England's Fusiliers.

2. The current Regimental strapline is: Once a Fusilier, Always a Fusilier (OAFAAF). This will be primarily (but not exclusively) be used by the Fusiliers Association and the Regiment where appropriate.

3. The Regimental Marketing team has developed a number of Regimental Straplines. This work is constantly under review but for the first time we have a consensus. The implementation instruction and detail is at Appendix 1 to this Annex.

4. The feedback has also enabled us to refine the Regimental Key Messages. These have been crafted to address our target audiences which include Regular and Reserves Recruiting; affiliated Cadets; our Civic supporters. There is also a 'descriptive' message which contains the factual information about the Regiment.

For our Regular and Reserve Recruiting

Purpose: It doesn't matter where you come from or your background; you'll be joining a Regiment with a reputation for tough soldiering and a distinctive badge.

The Principal message

- The Fusiliers – England's only national infantry regiment
- Recruited from anywhere and especially in our four traditional areas of London, The Midlands, The North West and the North East.
- Respected as tough partners in combat, as no-nonsense soldiers who can, and will, take on any challenge
- We only select on merit, not location or background. We are classless
- The Fusilier family is renowned for our strong bonds and lifelong support – a real brotherhood
- We don't favour one or two sports – we encourage them all
- Our red and white hackle distinguishes us from the rest of the Army

Supplementary information

- A Fusilier career offers you the challenge of serving as proud, professional infantry officers and soldiers. We look for motivated and talented volunteers from all communities across England and the wider UK – we are known to be inclusive and diverse

- A Fusilier is a combat infantryman. The Regiment delivers professional soldiers on operations or in training. But modern soldiering demands you are mentally and physically agile – and we'll help you get there
- We will actively help you to improve your education and to gain vocational qualifications that will prove useful outside of the Army; we aim to allow you to reach your full potential
- We train hard to build strong teams who are fit and courageous. But we also play hard, fielding successful teams in football, rugby, boxing, cross-country, and other team and individual sports. You'll also have the chance to travel, taking part in Regimental and Army overseas adventurous training expeditions

For our Fusilier Affiliated Cadets

Purpose: Tell your friends that you are part of an Infantry regiment with a solid reputation, a long history, a real family brotherhood and a badge that makes you stand out.

The Principal message

- You are part of the Fusilier family and wear the hackle to show it
- Renowned for our infantry experience across the decades, whether in armour or on foot. Others regard us as tough combat partners, with a ready-for-anything, no-nonsense attitude
- We have 50 years of unbroken service, plus the 330 years' service from our previous regiments
- We recruit quality officers and soldiers from across England and wider UK, and have particularly strong roots in London, the Midlands, the North West, and the North East
- The Fusiliers have two Battalions: one in armoured vehicles and one as foot soldiers
- We have a very strong family spirit – it starts when joining the Regiment and it's lifelong. As a Cadet, you are part of this family

Supplementary information

- Our Cadet Forces are 9 x CCFs and the ACFs of Northumbria Warwickshire and West Midlands (South Sector), Greater London and Greater Manchester. The detailed list is at <http://thefusiliers.org/affiliated-cadets/>

For our Civic Supporters

[Defined as local and national businesses, government bodies, the media and our regimental supporters].

Purpose: We have served the country well for over 330 years, recruiting from across England. We have a strong family ethos and provide lifelong support to those who have served.

The Principal message

- Our service to the country goes back over 300 years, with the modern regiment now 50 years old.
- We are proud to be a classless Regiment, selecting only on merit, not location or background.
- The Fusiliers are the only English Infantry Regiment who recruit nationally, with strong links to our historic areas: London, the Midlands, the North West, and the North East
- Since 1968, Fusiliers have seen service across the world, from Northern Ireland Cyprus and the Balkans, to Iraq and Afghanistan
- We now have two Battalions, one Armoured Infantry, one Light Role, (i.e. traditional foot soldiering)
- We are respected for our tough and no-nonsense approach to soldiering
- We have a strong family spirit that gives lifelong support – once you are a Fusilier, you are always a Fusilier
- Our red and white hackle marks us out from the rest of the Army

Supplementary information

- The Fusiliers are a large family. Once you have been a Fusilier, you are always one – you never leave. The Regiment looks after, and looks out for, the Fusilier Family, providing lifelong support
- We run two charities: the Fusilier Fund and the Fusilier Aid Society. They enhance and support the lives of the Fusilier Family. These funds support Fusiliers injured on operations and the families of those killed. But they also improve the day-to-day lives of Fusiliers serving in our Regular battalion, Reserve forces and Cadets
- The Fusilier Association is the principal way veterans maintain their links to the Regiment and equally the mechanism through which the Regiment cares for its veterans

Factual information about the Regiment

The Modern Regiment.

- England's Fusiliers consist of a Regular Battalion based near Salisbury Plain, a Reserve Battalion in the North-East, Reserve companies in London and the Midlands, and a platoon in Bury. We also have nationwide Fusilier-affiliated Cadet Forces and our Regimental Association has a strong presence in our four principal recruiting areas.
- 1st Fusiliers is an Armoured Infantry Battalion equipped with the Warrior Infantry Fighting Vehicle. They have served with distinction in Northern Ireland, the Balkans, Iraq and Afghanistan, and are now held at high readiness to deploy on operations as part of the Army's primary warfighting force.
- 5th Fusiliers, based around Newcastle, is a Reserve Battalion and part of 3 (UK) Div. They, and all the Fusiliers Reserve sub-units, are prepared to augment First Fusiliers for operations. Fifth Fusiliers are well equipped and train in the UK and overseas as professional combat infantry.

Fusilier History

- The modern Regiment formed on St George's Day 1968. It has a proud heritage, most obviously represented in the red and white Hackle worn by all Fusiliers in their berets
- Each former regiment has an exceptional place in military history, from the Royal Northumberland Fusiliers winning of the Hackle at the battle of St Lucia, to the Lancashire Fusiliers winning 6 Victoria Crosses at Gallipoli
- The Royal Warwickshire Regiment led the way on D-Day, while the Royal Fusiliers counter attack at Albuhera in 1811 undoubtedly saved Wellington's campaign in Spain against Napoleon
- The Kent Branch of the Royal Family have been linked to the Regiment for over 300 years and HRH Field Marshal The Duke of Kent KG is the Regimental Colonel-in-Chief
- The Regiment has fought with distinction throughout its history and the Regiment's hard-fought battle honours are emblazoned on the Regimental Colours that are proudly displayed and paraded on Regimental days
- All four of our founding regiments fought in WW1, raising 196 battalions between them. Fusiliers were represented in every major campaign in WW1
- In WWII, all four regiments took part in some of the most difficult operations of that period, from the Lancashire Fusiliers operating as Chindits against the Japanese in Burma, to the Royal Warwickshire Regiment's D-Day landing, and the Royal Northumberland Fusiliers and Royal Fusiliers fighting in North Africa and Italy
- After WWII, the Royal Northumberland Fusiliers and Royal Fusiliers fought in Korea, and all four regiments saw service in one of the many trouble spots around the world from Malaya to Kenya
- Since the formation of the Royal Regiment of Fusiliers in 1968, the Fusiliers have seen service across the world in countries as diverse as Northern Ireland and Cyprus. More recently, the Regiment fought to liberate Kuwait in 1991, served in Bosnia and Kosovo, and since 11 September 2001 has served multiple tours in Iraq, including the invasion in 2003, and Afghanistan
- This proud heritage is remembered in many different ways, not least through our exceptional museums and the activities of the Fusilier Association
